

List of additional First Responder's Discounts - All offers are subject to change and varies by state and eligibility is required either by displaying shield or completing a verification document via email or use of a verification service like ID.me or SheerID. Instructions are included for all the discount pages linked below.

For the detailed list check out The Dealhack First Responder Discounts Guide containing over 200 brands and is broken down into 22 categories <https://dealhack.com/blog/first-responder-discounts-guide>

1. BJ's Wholesale

'Appreciation Hour' for First Responders and Healthcare Workers from 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. on Sundays.

Beginning Sunday, April 19th, first responders and healthcare workers can shop the club during the designated hour without a membership. BJ's is also offering a free, four-month Inner Circle membership to all first responders and healthcare workers.

First responders and healthcare workers can sign up for their complimentary BJ's membership by visiting the member services desk at their local club. With this membership, first responders and healthcare workers will be able to shop the club during the designated shopping hour and during standard hours of operation at all locations.

2. McDonald's

Giving away free Thank You meals to our frontline heroes. Stop by a participating McDonald's from 4/22 - 5/5 and we'll take care of the rest.* All you need is proof of employment.

*At participating McDonald's 4/22/20 through 5/5/20 at drive-thru and front counter only. Valid ID required. Limit one Thank You meal per person per day. Not available with Mobile Order and Pay or McDelivery®. Breakfast meal includes Egg McMuffin®, Chicken McGriddles®, or Bacon, Egg & Cheese Biscuit, plus Hash Browns and any size soft drink, tea or hot brewed coffee. Lunch/dinner meal includes Double Cheeseburger, 6 Piece McNuggets®, or Filet-O-Fish®, plus small fries and any size soft drink, tea or hot brewed coffee. Menu options may vary by restaurant. No substitutions. Decisions of manager are final.

3. IHOP

Get 20% off your entire check if you're a medical, law enforcement, military and firefighter professional. All you need to do is mention the offer when you call in your order to IHOP. Then, show your official ID when you pick up your order.

4. Starbucks

Extending its free coffee giveaway for first responders and health care workers serving on the front lines of the coronavirus pandemic.

Through May 31, “any customer who identifies as a first responder or front-line worker supporting the health care industry” will receive a free tall brewed coffee, either hot or iced.

The offer is for police officers, firefighters, paramedics, doctors, nurses, hospital and medical staff and researchers.

5. Allbirds:

The popular shoe company has a few ways to get a discount. First, you can bundle your own shoe purchase with a pair to be sent to a health care professional. Prices range from $146 to $186 for both women's and men's shoe bundles. If you don't want any shoes for yourself, you can donate a pair directly to a health care worker for $60. Finally, health care workers themselves can purchase final-sale pairs from a special collection at a discounted price.

6. Asics:

Medical professionals and first responders get 60% off any full-priced product. You must first create an Asics account using your professional email.

7. Enell:

The sports bra company is offering health care workers, first responders and teachers a single-use, 50%-off coupon valid through May 30.

8. Nike:

First responders and medical professionals (including technicians and researchers) get 20% off most items on Nike's website. The discount can be used up to four times per month, and Nike uses SheerID to verify employment status.

9. Care.com:

Frontline workers get a month of free premium access to the company's services, which include care for kids, aging parents and pets.

10. Owala:

Water bottle company Owala is helping first responders, government workers and medical professionals stay hydrated with 50% off their orders. Verification is done via VerifyPass, and retirees in the aforementioned fields are eligible as well.

11. AAA:

Free roadside assistance is available for medical workers and first responders, though details may vary by state.

12. Airbnb:

The company is waiving all fees for the first 100,000 stays in its new Frontline stays program. Individuals must first submit professional information to Airbnb to confirm their eligibility, after which they can book directly with hosts.

13. BP and Amoco:

First responders, doctors, nurses and other hospital workers all get a one-time, 50-cent-per-gallon discount at BP and Amoco stations. Be sure to verify your eligibility with ID.me before fueling up.

14. Choice Hotels:

Essential health care workers, first responders, transit employees and more can receive discounted room rates at participating hotels.

15. Citi Bike:

Critical workers living or working in New York City are eligible for a free 30-day Citi Bike membership.

16. Wyndham Hotels:

All essential workers — including health care workers, delivery drivers, grocery clerks and more — get a free instant membership upgrade to Gold status.

17. Cumberland Farms:

Medical workers, first responders, hospital staff and active duty military can get a free coffee, any size, hot or iced.

18. Home Chef:

The meal kit delivery service is offering 50% off your first purchase for medical personnel, first responders, military and teachers. The maximum discount is $60 per sale, and subsequent orders will be discounted by 10%. Verification is completed using ID.me.

19. Krispy Kreme:

Through May 12, all health care workers are eligible for a free dozen glazed doughnuts. There's a limit of five dozen per worker. Just show your employer badge at any Krispy Kreme drive-thru location.

20. BlanQuil:

Health care workers, military personnel and first responders can all snag 50% off BlanQuil's popular weighted blankets (or anything else on the website).

21. Lovesac:

First responders, health care workers, teachers and military get 40% off all Sacs and Sactionals through May. Lovesac uses Sheer.ID to verify eligibility.

22. Leesa:

First responders, educators, students and members of the military get 15% off their entire orders.

23. Tide Cleaners:

Through May 9, families of front line responders can get free laundry services through Tide's Loads of Hope program. Details on eligibility and locations available here

24. Tuft & Needle:

Another popular mattress option, Tuft and Needle is offering a 15% discount to health care workers, first responders and veterans